POULTRY SHOW OF IMMENSE INTEREST OPEN TO PUBLIC

The first annual exhibition of the Hawaiian Poultry Association opened in the building formerly occupied by the Herrick Carriage Co., adjoining the Stangenwald building on Merchant street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, a considerable crowd being on hand at the opening of the doors.

Among the first visitors were Governor Carter, Auditor Fisher, P. C. Jones, W. W. Hall, C. J. Hutchins, August Dreier, J. A. Gilman and Will E. Fisher.

HONOLULU CHILDREN AND THEIR THANKSGIVING

(Special to The Bulletin)

Honolulu, Kau, December 2.—A Thanksgiving luau was given by the children and teacher of the Honolulu school at the school premises, on Thanksgiving Day, November 30.

Early in the morning, a crowd of children came pouring into the school ground carrying wood, water, two pigs, some ti leaves, and ferns, poi, fish and other useful things. The whole work was done by the children, while the teacher gave them instruction. The pigs were roasted in the imu, the fish in the ti leaves, and so on. The work was done by the children with great interest. The plan for the day's work was made ready beforehand. A Thanksgiving song was sung, and after a few words in prayer by the children, they sat down at the table.

After the luau and in accordance with the plan made by the teacher, the children were taken down to the beach for a sea bath. It was a great day for the little people here, they were so happy, full of joy and life. They will not forget that happy time from now on, and forever.

GAZETTE COMPELLED BY HEALTH BOARD TO BECOME SANITARY

The Board of Health and the Gazette Company locked horns yesterday for a short time, the result being a decided decision for the former. The bone of contention was the floor in the Advertiser pressroom on the ground floor. The health authorities wanted a cement floor put in and the Advertiser people refused. The matter was brought before the Board of Health at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The result was that the Board in a body visited the premises and after inspecting them, confirmed the order that the cement floor must be forthcoming.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Board in the following significant item in the message of President Pinkham: "I hand you a memorandum of orders given and correspondence with a most prominent public friend of your president, which again illustrates the difference between preaching and practice. I leave the matter entirely to your further initiative."

The history of the affair was then outlined as follows: Inspector Vivichaves gave the Advertiser people an order to lay a cement floor in the place stated. This request was refused. The matter was reported to the president, who wrote a letter to Manager Crane.

Still the cement floor was not forthcoming. Manager Crane then called on President Pinkham, who at Crane's request, went with him and inspected the place. Pinkham came to the conclusion that Vivichaves' order was a proper one and urged that it should be obeyed, telling Crane that his own good judgment should impel him to comply with the order, especially as all the other property holders in the same block had complied with the orders to place their premises in sanitary condition.

The President said that he left the matter entirely to the Board. Dr. Wayson made a motion that the Board in a body visit the premises. This carried, and the Board members were all conveyed to the scene of the trouble, with the result that they decided that the order should be complied with.

Judge Perry this afternoon finished his argument for the defense in the Takada murder case. At about 2:30 p. m. Deputy Attorney General Fleming began the argument for the prosecution. The case will probably go to the jury late this afternoon.

Sato, a Japanese cook formerly engaged in the family of E. F. Monsarrat, was arrested this afternoon on a charge of larceny in the first degree. He is accused of stealing a $50 watch and $10 in gold from his employer.

A. Haneberg, auditor for Hackfeld & Co., leaves this afternoon for Makaweli. The demurrers of the respondents were made on the grounds that there was a misjoinder of parties plaintiff. A. F. Judd appeared for the respondents and G. W. Ashford for the plaintiffs. After considerable argument the court sustained the demurrer on the grounds cited, giving the respondent leave to immediate appeal to the Supreme Court or leave to amend the petition within fifteen days.

Grinbaum Going Out Of Business

M. S. Grinbaum & Co., Ltd., will go out of the mercantile business about the first of the year and devote undivided attention to sugar plantation development on the island of Maui, the old Hana plantation reincorporated by Grinbaum as the Kaeleku Sugar Company.

M. S. Grinbaum, president, returned from Maui in the Claudine this morning, from an inspection of the plantation, reporting most encouraging conditions. He was seen by a Bulletin reporter this forenoon in reference to the report that Grinbaum & Co. would quit the general merchandise line at the end of this year.

"We are going out of the mercantile business," said Mr. Grinbaum, "and, of course, will confine our attention to the plantation. The plantation is at present in splendid condition. I have just returned from there. Hana has averaged 3000 tons of sugar a year, but, since we have not planted that much, we will not harvest any such crop next season. But the crops are going to be increased and we are well satisfied with the outlook."

"I have been in business in this city for 47 years," continued Mr. Grinbaum, "discussing his firm's dropping merchandise, and this business community has been through a great many crises. Honolulu has always managed to revive after every period of hard times. Now what we need more than anything else is a consuming population."

"The merchandise business here needs a consuming population. There is not sufficient of such a population to warrant our continuing in the merchandise line."

"I am heartily in favor of any move that the Territory can make to induce thousands of white immigrants to make Hawaii their home. We need all we can get. We should all stand together, the newspapers and all, to encourage immigration."

"Why, look at the present condition of the real estate market. There is but one reason for its quietness—we have not the population to keep things moving."

"Until we get a good consuming population, Hawaii will always be having intervals of hard times."

Grinbaum & Co. are now closing out stock. No new stock is being ordered. Some is being sold at auction. The firm will probably vacate the large quarters now occupied on the corner of Queen and Kaahumanu streets.

Following are the officers of Grinbaum & Co.: M. S. Grinbaum, president; E. J. Benjamin, vice president; A. Gantenberg, treasurer; H. S. Danford, secretary; and H. G. Ramsay, auditor.

A meeting of Kasala Lodge, No. 3, K. of P., will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay leave for their home on Kauai this afternoon.

New Law Drafted By Robinson

Judge Robinson this morning stated that he had drafted an act to be presented to Congress by Delegate Kubio for the purpose of amending the Organic Act so that all naturalizations made heretofore by Circuit Courts be declared legal.

The point of the illegality of naturalizations by Circuit Courts was not raised originally by Judge Matthewman," said Judge Robinson. "As a matter of fact I had refused to naturalize people and Chief Justice Fear also advised me not to do so. In the meantime a number of people have taken naturalization papers through the Circuit Courts. They have taken the oath to support the United States, have sworn allegiance to their own country and paid the necessary fees. Now, these people acted in good faith, and it would not be right to take their money for something that was worthless. Furthermore, they have sworn their allegiance to their own country, so that if they are not citizens of the United States they are actually men without a country."

Judge Robinson also gave out a letter which he sent to the Bar Association regarding the matter, including the proposed amendment.

MR. COOPER, BROKER

Friends of W. G. Cooper, formerly cashier of the First National Bank, will be pleased to know that he has entered the stock brokerage business in Los Angeles. Letters received recently tell of his having located in the southern city and started by purchasing a seat on the Los Angeles stock exchange. It was his original intention to associate himself with a banking institution, but inability to secure the control he wished at the desired figure led him to change his plans.

The demurrers filed by the respondents in the quo warranto proceeding of W. C. Peacock & Co., Ltd., W. C. Peacock, T. F. Lansing, R. L. Auerbach and Andrew Brown vs. Alexander Garle, J. L. Corbush, A. W. T. Bottomley and J. G. Rothwell, disputing their authority to act as officers and directors of Peacock & Co., Ltd., was heard this morning by Judge De Bolt and overruled.

C. G. Ballentyne and the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co. have filed an appeal to the United States Supreme Court from the decision of the local Supreme Court sustaining Judge Robinson's order setting aside the sale of the Pacific Heights Railway Co.

Father Adelbert is an outgoing passenger on the steamer Kinan this afternoon.

Says 'Tiser Lena Story Is Outrage

"This Lena business is one of the greatest outrages ever perpetrated by a newspaper in Honolulu," said M. S. Grinbaum this morning, discussing general business conditions.

"The Russian cruiser Lena left $50,000 in this city if she left a cent, and for the Advertiser to print the stories told by drunken sailors of fancied trouble aboard, mutiny and alleged brutality of officers, when there was not a word of truth in it all, was certainly an outrage."

"Such yarns do the city no good. They do us great harm. Why, with the stories printed in the Advertiser about the Lena and her company, officers were actually afraid to stop at the hotels."

"I want to say it openly that the papers here frequently print things that do the town harm, sometimes publishing facts about conditions that do not need to be aired, but the Lena story in the Advertiser was the worst I ever saw here. It was not true in the first place and it was worse than thoughtless."

"The men of the Lena, officers and all, should have received every welcome and should have been made to feel at home. They will carry the story of their visit here wherever they go."

"The captain of the Lena said the proper thing in denying the sensational story in the Advertiser when he said: 'Would you take as truth every word uttered by a drunken sailor?'"

On November 27 the Advertiser printed what purported to be the story of men of the cruiser to the effect that there was a conspiracy among the officers to blow up the vessel upon getting to sea. There were also other yarns.

A neat little house has been built at the end of the dry goods floor and Santa Claus will come down the chimney and talk to the little ones and make his usual gifts of candy.

THAT ORDINANCE WAS PROPERLY PASSED NOT SHOWN FOR MOTHER SUPERIOR

Forty Chinamen arrested for violating an ordinance made by the County Supervisors, were discharged in the Police Court this morning because of a lack of evidence and the prosecution failing to show that the ordinance had been properly passed. The defense was represented by Attorneys Humphreys and Chillingworth.

In the beginning Attorney Humphreys asked that the case be demurred on the grounds that the complaint had not been properly drawn and later that additional words had been attached to the document after it had been sworn. Judge Whitney overruled the motion.

Tables, benches and other things from the room where the Chinese were found were produced as evidence but nothing to show that a game of fan tan had actually taken place was brought out. The Whitney mandamus case taken to the Supreme Court some time ago was a result of a number of arrests under the same ordinance. The higher court decided that warrants should be issued by Judge Whitwell in such cases.

After the dismissal of the barricade case this morning there was talk of the owner of the devices, taken from the room for evidence, part of which was somewhat damaged, suing the country or the officers who assisted in the raid.

It is said that the Republican headquarters will be moved from over the Hawaiian Trust Co. to across Fort street in the rooms above R. H. Trent's office.

Sarah K. Kupan has filed a libel for divorce against Lowell K. Kupan, alleging intemperance and failure to provide.

The Supervisors meet at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

The County Committee meets at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, to elect a chairman, vice Lorrin Andrews, resigned. It is understood that, since the Fifth District has the vice chairmanship in the person of Judge Hookano, all are willing that the Fourth District be given the chairmanship. Harry Murray is generally mentioned as the man.
